

Dear Friends,

Some of you might have experienced a problem yesterday when we sent out this email to announce the launch of my new website. For a very short amount of time, the links did not work. We apologize for this inconvenience and are resending the email today with all the links up and working. For those of you who did not experience any problems with the links, sorry to clog up your inbox again with another email, but we hope you liked what you saw.

I would like to announce the launch of my new website (again!) - the Girls' Guide to Paris. It's an all in one travel site where you can plan everything about your next (or first) trip to Paris. We show you where to stay and where to shop, plus everything in between, from the best spas and hammams in town to the most delicious chocolate shops. Check in with us too while you are in Paris to find the hottest restaurants and bars or download one of our popular Girls' Guide Tours and let us walk you through our favorite arrondissements. Or simply sit back and take an armchair trip to Paris for free with one click.

We've combed the streets, the most recent travel guides and the smartest blogs to find the best of the best for girls from 18 to 88 and beyond. We only list fabulous hotels, restaurants and shops that we know personally, where you can find the best deals and the hottest looks. We don't waste your time with the obvious touristy stuff you'll find in every other travel guide, rather we bring you unique "Paris only" experiences found after years of traveling and living there. We are proud to have a bevy of on the ground lady bloggers that will bring you updates weekly and show you an insider's Paris...for Girls Only.

Whether you are going to Paris alone, with your mother, your sister or your daughter or getting away for a girls' trip with friends, we can supply you with all the info you need to make your holiday hassle free and completely memorable. You can even plan your escape with your amour using the Girls' Guide , we'll keep it our little secret!

Please feel free to send us comments about what you like, what you want to see more of and what you find missing. We want to make this site a readers forum and enable Francophile filles around the globe to share what they love about Paris. Be sure to click on the What's Hot Blog to find out what's happening right now in the City of Light.

If you like what you see, please share the Girls' Guide with your girlfriends!

Thank you,
Doni Belau
